

Theodoros Giannakopoulos

Chief Investment Solutions

Theodoros (Ted) Giannakopoulos is a holder of two Masters degrees, in Electrical & Computer Engineering and Economics. These skills have been successfully combined in the world of Structured Products, in which he has been active over the last decade in creating, developing and selling Structured Investment Solutions. This has been made possible while building long-standing relationships with esteemed financial counterparties active in this space, in the several markets around the world, notably Switzerland, the United Kingdom, Israel, South East Asia (Singapore, Hong Kong) and European Economic Area (Germany, France, Monaco, etc). As the market is becoming more aware of such financial instruments (especially across illiquid underlyings), the goal is to capture the market interest and translate it into innovative financial structures, for the ultimate benefit of both the investors, as well as of the investment managers.
