David Jaggi

Research Associate

David Jaggi is currently a Research Associate at ZHAW School of Management and Law and a PhD candidate at the University of Zurich. Prior to his current roles, he served as a Data Scientist within the Trade and Behavioral Analytics Team at Credit Suisse. David earned a Master of Science in Investments and Finance from Queen Mary University of London, complemented by a Bachelor of Science in Engineering and Management from ZHAW. His research primarily focuses on the intersection of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, particularly their applications in the financial sector.

Programm

ZEIT	Donnerstag, 25. April 2024, 15:30 - 16:10 UHR , Seminarraum 1
THEMA	Unearthing Alpha Potential in Thematic Investing through Patent Analytics: A Sector Comparison
REFERENT(EN)	David Jaggi, Prof. Alexander Posth, Carsten C. Guderian